
May Rainfall Breaks Record

A 99-year old record for rainfall in Virginia during the month of May was broken in Appomattox county last month at the home of Mr. R. B. Hudgins, retired county extension agent, who shows (above) that 9.5 inches of rain were measured in his gauge at home. According to a report from Richmond, the last time the record came close to this was in 1873 when 8.42 inches of rain were recorded in Virginia. Mr. Hudgins says that Sunday night's rain (June 4) was recorded as one-tenth of an inch at his home, whereas Cary Carson in Stonewall District had eight-tenths of an inch. Mr. Hudgins says that rainfall does vary considerably even within a county. He has a good helper in his measurements, however; he says that Mrs. Hudgins is extremely accurate and very careful that all measurements are exactly right.

the various departments of news coverage: political, social, sports, special features.

The Stimpsons now reside in Brookneal, Virginia, where her husband, the Reverend M. G. Stimpson serves as minister of Brookneal Presbyterian Church, Roanoke, Presbyterian Church and as Camp Coordinator of Camp Hat Creek the Presbyterian camp which serves the eight-some churches of Appomattox Presbytery. The camping program there is also conducted in cooperation with Methodist Churches of the Farmville District and with other groups.

Mr. Stimpson has accepted a position as time-salesman and advertising writer for Radio Station WODI, Brookneal, Graham Jones is the owner-manager.

During her years as news editor she has served as publicity chairman for various organizations, Delta Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi; Appomattox Woman's Club, the Appomattox Unit, Va. Division, American Cancer Society; Appomattox Service Unit, Girl Scouts and others.

In addition, she served from 1969-71 as secretary of the Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce and was choir member and soloist of the Appomattox Court House Presbyterian Church and vocal soloist in various programs in the community, including the Appomattox Civic Chorus.

During 1968 and 1969 she also was affiliated with Farmville Radio Station WFLO as "fashion reporter" for Baldwin's Dept. Store, writing and broadcasting commercials on fashion news.

Concerning her resignation, Mrs. Stimpson said, "I give up this position with the deepest regret. Newspaper writing is a challenge and a pleasure, and working with the fine staff here and the people of Appomattox County has meant a great deal to me.

"In particular, I want to thank the organizations who have given me me certificates and honorary memberships and the other types of recognition that spell 'friendship' and 'understanding' among people. These include the Robert E. Lee Chapter, Future Farmers, of America, the Appomattox County Rescue Squad, Appomattox Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Appomattox Chapters Distributive Education Clubs of America and Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, the Appomattox Service Unit, Girl Scouts and others. To all these organizations and more, I say "Thank You" with a very grateful heart."

PLAN APPROVED FOR CVPDC

The plan has been submitted in the HUD area office in Richmond and to the State Division of Planning and Community Affairs. The plan, when approved by HUD, will provide the necessary certification of the CVPDC. For the localities in the Planning District, the approval will insure that funding for required area-wide planning of water and sewer facilities will continue.

AIR POLLUTION BOARD OPENS AREA OFFICE

RICHMOND – The State Air Pollution Control Board has opened an office in Lynchburg to serve the Central Virginia Air Quality Control Region – the board's Region 3.

Previously, regional director Ivan C. Henson had operated from Richmond and his home at Farmville, and the region's other three staffers worked from their homes in Martinsville, Danville and Lynchburg.

They will still concentrate in their particular areas in the pattern of coverage already developed for the five-city, 18-county region.

The headquarters office for it, however, is now Room 209-A in the Fort Early Building, 11 Oakridge Boulevard, Lynchburg, Va. 24502. The telephone number there is 845-8254.

The air quality region covers four state planning districts – Nos. 11, 12, 13 and 14. It takes in the cities of Bedford and South Boston in addition to Danville, Lynchburg and Martinsville, and an expanse of central counties extending through tobacco country to the North Carolina line.

The counties are Amelia, Amherst, Appomattox Bedford, Brunswick, Buckingham, Campbell, Charlotte, Cumberland, Franklin, Halifax, Henry, Lunenburg, Mecklenburg, Nottoway, Patrick, Pittsylvania and Prince Edward.

Besides Henson, the field staff includes Moss M. Clingenpeel, Jr. of Martinsville, the assistant regional director, and air pollution control officers Jerry W. Lewis at Danville and Russell A. Krantz Jr. at Lynchburg.

PLENTY FOR EVERYONE!

Shady trees and sturdy picnic tables provided the setting Saturday for the annual FFA-FHA picnic held at Holliday Lake. Swimming and boating were followed with a terrific picnic spread of hamburgers, potato chips, homemade cake and cookies and lots of cool drinks being enjoyed (above) by chapter members from Appomattox County High School.

But above and beyond all these good things, we are on a team sharing the spine-thrilling satisfaction of being a part of that which keeps our great nation free, so that it may continue to thrive in peace. We are devoted to our country and it's well-being and our country is devoted to us. We have but two conceivable ways we may lose our job. Only if the country we love and protect should fail or - if We should commit a crime for which punishment therefor could eliminate us. I can think of no better happiness - sustaining security and job satisfaction.

If you are a male between the ages of 17 and 35 or female 18 and 35, and if you think you might be interested in joining our team, please see me, write or telephone me, for further explanation at Concord Post Office every Thursday 9:30 a.m. or Appomattox Post Office every Thursday at 10:30 a.m. or Pamplin City Post Office at 1 p.m. or call 845-7241 collect.

What Does Today's Modern Army Offer

BY Sgt. Ray Jennings

I'm Sergeant Ray Jennings, your local Army Representative. I have enjoyed living and working in this area of our great state of Virginia and have had the opportunity to meet and talk with many citizens, but unfortunately time has not allowed me to meet enough of you. During my daily contacts, I have detected quite a lack of knowledge about Today's Modern Army, what it does, and what it offers it's members.

Unfortunately it has appeared to me that a vast majority of people now-a-days seem to think of the military as some sort of awful unwarranted punishment hanging over the heads of those who must serve. On the contrary, I am positive in my own mind that all branches of our Armed Forces have great things to offer our youngsters. They can mature and continue to grow in knowledge and experience and reap numerous benefits in the future. And once he or she completes the basic training course and starts learning and working, he or she will be amazed; It's not at all a prison sentence, rather a very fulfilling life of job satisfaction and recreational pleasures, very comparable to those ways of a civilian community. We must also always remember that our very free existence has always been guarded by our military forces

How Do You Make It?

"How do you make it?" That's a question heard o Mrs. Irby Wheeler, Times-Virginian correspondent for years and the writer of the Stonewall column sig Mrs. Wheeler has just completed this "puff quilt" pattern well over 100 years old. Each square has a dual backing of cloth and each square contains three silk squares although other fabrics can easily be us explains. She has completed two of the quilts with t For those who like statistics, that means more th little square "puffs" in the two quilts with each squa ed at each corner with colored thread. The colorful provides pictorial proof that a bed cover can be bo beautiful and a work of art, as well.
